THE FARCE AT ALBANY.

The Virtuous Conklingite Tells his "Bribery" Story Once More.

His Version of the way he tried to Initiate the Job set up on Old Pomeroy of Kansas—A State Trick.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

ALBANY, June 14.—[illegible]

Platt's vote: Depew 35, Folger [illegible]

Adjourned.

The Bribery Charges.

ALBANY, June 14.—[illegible] bribery investigation [illegible] telling him that [illegible] Conkling and Platt, and [illegible] He then asked me if he could [illegible] I said yes. He then said that he would [illegible] in my pocket, if I would vote for Depew. I said no, and started [illegible] I told him that I would not vote for Depew. I tried to get away from him and told him so twice. I walked off about six feet and he followed me up. [illegible] I would not then talk money, because I did not want to sell my vote and I did not want to expose him. [illegible] and expose it. [illegible]

Peckham—Why did not you take the thousand dollars then and expose him with that?

Witness—Because at that time I hadn't made up my mind then.

[illegible]

Witness—Because he was a senator and it was not a pleasant thing to do. [illegible] the senator requested an interview. I had not made up my mind to expose him. I went to his room after supper [illegible] When we got into my room I locked the door and I asked him to take a seat. Sessions told me that it would be a good thing for all five of us to vote for the same man. I have done well for you, I have now $2000. I had not up to this time said a word as to how I would vote and the last time I spoke to him I told him I would vote with him. He brought the money and counted it out on his knee, and then handed me the money. I said nothing but bowed my head to indicate that I assented. I think I said yes when he said it would be a good thing, our voting together. I asked him before I put the money in my pocket who I should vote for, and he said, "Chauncey M. Depew." I assented to it. I said I would, I think. I have not said in my testimony that I said to him that I would vote for Depew.

Peckham read from the testimony that witness answered in his first examination that he thought he did not promise to vote for Depew and asked him if he swore to that at that time.

Witness answered that he had and commenced to explain.

Peckham said that he did not want any explanation, but Bangs, Bradley's counsel, said that witness had a right to explain and the chairman so ruled.

Bradley then continued—I did not promise to vote for Depew but it was understood by Sessions that I was to vote for Depew, and it was for that reason he gave him the money.

Peckham—Haven't you told us just now that you did promise so to vote before you got the money?

Witness—It was understood that it was to vote for Depew. I did not say in so many words. From the fact of his paying me $2000, it was understood that I was to vote for Depew, and the reason is the fact of my taking the money. After receiving the money I went to the Delavan House to see Speaker Sharpe.

Witness related his interview with Sharpe, already told. When I went into the senate to [illegible] I went to see Senator [illegible] to get him to put in writing what I should say about changing my vote. I wanted to see writing in the thing, as I thought it would have some bearing on the matter. That writing would corroborate my statement of bribery. After adjournment of the legislature on the day of the exposure, I went to the Delavan House and into Ex-Marshal Payne's room. Conkling was in the room and a number of other persons. I didn't have any talk with Conkling or Platt on that day.

Smith, of counsel for Sessions, said: Whenever you went to the room of Marshal Payne, was it to attend a conference to further the election of Ex-Senator Conkling?

Witness—Why yes, that was perhaps the object.

Smith—Was anything ever said or done there to get votes?

Witness—No, sir.

Smith—Did you ever hear of the use of money in this question?

Witness—Yes, sir. It was common talk that the half-breeds were using money.

Smith—Have you any personal knowledge of bribery in the legislature besides the one with which you are connected?

Witness—No, sir.

Smith—Did you ever hear of any cases of legislative bribery before this one?

Witness—Yes, sir. I have got it into my mind from my wife reading English history, in Fox's time.

Smith—Anything since January 1st last?

Answer—No, sir. Not of my personal knowledge.

Smith—Have you heard of any?

Witness—Yes, sir. I heard of it from Col. Young, member from Broome county. Since my exposure my wife visited with Sessions' family. (Witness could not remember having conversation with a man named Hickman and telling him he had voted for Conkling and Platt, but would for the other two men.)

Bradley testified that there was no ill-feeling between him and Sessions, although all of the party did not endorse Sessions' action at the caucus, he thought. He did not tell C. P. [illegible] that he had voted for Conkling and Platt for the last time, and would not make direct answer whether he told Bunnell of New York the number of times he would vote for Depew hereafter; did not think he told him or [illegible] Smith, of the Buffalo Courier, [illegible] He was positive that he did not tell F. M. Mulkey, of [illegible] county, [illegible] store in [illegible] on Sunday that there was consternation in store for the people of Albany. He thought that he did say that he would get $5000 for voting for Depew [illegible] the same. [illegible] didn't do it. Did not tell the [illegible] that he could get $2500 to vote for Depew.

As Viewed by Conkling.

Yesterday Conkling said to a friend that the question of his reelection will soon be decided, because developments which are to come in the bribery case will either cause the half-breeds to vote for the stalwarts or seek [illegible]

CANADA.

Placing the Blame.

LONDON, June 14.—The jury find that the steamer Victoria capsized from water in the hold which probably leaked in through a hole made by a stone crossing. The boiler was not securely fastened and the stanchions supporting the upper decks were too feeble and weak. [illegible] was grossly negligent in not taking the advice of the danger and condition of the boat. The captain is blamed for being [illegible] for not properly examining the boat before crossing [illegible] The manager failed in his duty in not employing enough hands for the boat and in not having it inspected, and the government inspectors are to blame for passing a boat which was so unfit to carry a large load of passengers. The jury urge the government to be more stringent.

NORTH MEXICO.

TUCSON, June 14.—The Star has advices this morning from Hermosillo, Sonora, to this effect: Two thousand federal troops have arrived in the Yaqui country between Rios Yaqui and Mayo and [illegible] commencement of the survey of the Bradman grant, 600 more will be put in the same locality. [illegible] of the state apprehend difficulty with the Yaqui Indians, but the government is bound to give surveyors protection even if a much larger force is required.

Grading on the Guaymas railroad has been completed 15 miles north of Hermosillo. There is enough iron at Guaymas to track the road to Magdalena, but scarcity of ties prevents work from going on faster.

[illegible] elect Carlos Ortiz takes his seat on the 15th as governor.

The Bernhardt Marriage.

The Toronto World says [illegible] the reported marriage of Sarah Bernhardt and M. Angelo: Sarah is going to be married, and Mr. Angelo is the daring man who proposes the experiment. [illegible] Here begins the material for a new and lively sensation for the world of two years hence. When Mme. Vestris married Charles Mathews the other theatrical ladies said she [illegible] him everything. "What courage!" said one. "But what a memory!" said another.

It was a proud day for [illegible] Fred Douglass when he delivered the Decoration-day address at Harper's Ferry and received the congratulations of the attorney who prosecuted John Brown.

GENERAL NEWS.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Another Railway Scheme Affecting Oregon.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Times says: It was reported in Wall street several days ago that the [illegible] Railway Co. had decided to build a [illegible] of road 375 miles long from a point between Sidney and Cheyenne to connect with the [illegible] Oregon Railway and Navigation Co. at Baker City, Oregon, and that to raise the necessary funds they proposed to issue to each holder of five shares of Union Pacific stock $1000 in first mortgage bonds of the new road at par, but without guarantee, and to give as a bonus ten shares of stock in the new company. Officers of the Union Pacific company, however, persistently denied the truth of the story. Yesterday it was announced privately to stockholders that the rights above detailed would be given to stockholders of record Saturday last, and numerous protests were sent in against closing the books in such an arbitrary manner without notice.

A New Chinese Minister.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Evening Post's Hartford special says: Private advices received from China say that a new minister to this country has been appointed to take the place of Chen Lan Pin. His name is Chang Tsao Ju. He has been a prominent revenue official in China for some years, and is regarded as a very suitable person [illegible] the office to which he has been called. His arrival in this country may be expected in autumn.

Eastern Railway Rates.

The following circular was issued this afternoon: It having been shown that the established tariff on grain was not maintained by railroads, [illegible] under the agreement of March 11th, has authorized a general reduction of grain rates of [illegible] of 25 cents per 100 pounds from Chicago to New York. If this rate is not strictly maintained further reduction will be authorized to meet the lowest special rate that may be made until such roads are willing to maintain higher rates and make them alike to all shippers between the same localities. This action is taken to prevent unjust discrimination between shippers of the same localities. No other classes of freight except grain and [illegible] class are affected by this reduction. This may be increased without previous ten days notice.

Wife Murderer Lynched.

LITTLE ROCK, June 14.—Twenty-five masked men took from the jail and hung Col. Every, wife murderer, sentenced to 21 years. He was shot in the head and probably was dead when hung. This is the third attempt to lynch him.

Strike Ended.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The employing bakers say that so far as they are concerned the strike is over. They have all the men they want, and have lost very few customers.

Railroad Election.

GALVESTON, June 14.—R. S. Hayes was elected first vice-president of the Texas Pacific.

New Hampshire will Elect.

CONCORD, June 14.—The republican caucus has decided to proceed to elect a U. S. senator forthwith.

New Hampshire Legislature.

CONCORD, June 14.—No decision was reached by the house on the election of senator. The senate agreed to elect by a vote of 14 to 10. The republican caucus has not made a nomination yet.

Dismal Outlook for Crops in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, June 14.—The state commissioner of agriculture presents a gloomy picture of prospects in the state. He says that early May has damaged crops more than recent rains can repair. Wheat will fall below reasonable expectations, [illegible] and certainly will not be over a two-thirds crop. Corn has been planted in some localities three times this year. Seed, bad weather, bad and seasonable [illegible] in bad condition.

That Disgusting Colorado Case.

LINCOLN, June 14.—The famous miscegenation case where a Chinaman and a white woman were indicted for intermarriage, the ceremony having been performed in Colorado, was decided to-day by Chief Justice Sayer. The court held that the marriage being legal in Colorado was legal here under the statutes. The defendants were finally discharged. A curious outgrowth of the case is that Chinamen here have instructed their [illegible] that the [illegible] disgrace their race by marrying a white woman.

To Join the Greeley Expedition.

BALTIMORE, June 14.—Lieut. James B. Lockwood, U. S. army, with fifteen men, sailed to-day for St. Johns, Newfoundland, to join the steamer Proteus of the Greeley expedition to Lady Franklin bay. The following comprise the party with Lieut. Lockwood: W. H. Cross, W. S. Jewell, D. L. Brainard, [illegible]

New Railroad.

DETROIT, June 14.—Work on the new Duluth and Winnipeg railroad will begin in a week. Detroit capitalists have the backing. [illegible] The country through which it will run is very rich.

Crop Prospects in Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, June 14.—Reports to the department of agriculture do not present most favorable prospects for a heavy corn crop. The northern grand division, comprising twenty-three counties, about one-third of the corn area of the state, promises only an [illegible] of an average yield. The acreage is about the same as last year. There is a large increase in acreage of the central grand division over last year. This division contains thirty-eight counties in the corn belt of the state. Much of the winter wheat has been plowed up and put in corn. The condition of the crop gives promise of a nearly average yield per acre in the southern grand division. Forty-one counties, containing nearly one-fifth of the corn area of the state, reports a decrease of two per cent in acreage as compared with last year.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Postmaster General James' Work.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—It is estimated that Postmaster General James will save at least $1,500,000 during his first fiscal year by star route savings. He has saved over $400,000 in postal cards and envelope contracts. There is no danger of his economizing too far. It is his purpose to keep pace with the growing necessities of the country, to increase and encourage facilities for the distribution of mails, star routes receiving as close attention as the large cities and all branches of the service will be improved.

National Politics.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The secretary of the national greenback committee says the greenbackers next congress will stand solidly together on all questions. Nine are pledged to meet in a greenback caucus and carry out greenback policy. They are Ladd, Murch, Brumm, Muskay, [illegible] Burroughs, Ford and Jones. Hyatt Smith, Yocum, readjuster; Moseley, republican greenbackers from the [illegible] the organization of the house. It is probable however readjusters of Virginia will also vote republican. It may be said now that the republicans will organize congress. [illegible]

Grant's outspoken condemnation of the administration has added force to the whispering that stalwart congressmen will after congress meets antagonize the administration. The talk hitherto seems to have come from disappointed office-seekers, but Grant's open opposition creates the impression that it will be done. A prominent Conklingite to-day said that the purpose of Grant, Conkling and friends will be to drive Blaine from the cabinet by threatening to disturb republican supremacy in senate and house. The administration thinks slightingly of this talk and is confident that two administration senators will be returned in place of Conkling and Platt.

The President and his Premier.

There is not a particle of truth in the reports persistently circulated from here, of the coldness between the president and Blaine. On the contrary the confidence of the president in Blaine's friendship as an individual, and loyalty to the public as an official, has been increased, if possible, since the 4th of March. Secretary Blaine has been very careful to keep strictly in the bounds of his official duties and relations, and has never volunteered any advice to the president.

Blaine's Health and Conduct.

The World's Washington special says: Stories of Blaine's illness are untrue. He was never in more robust health in his life. He has had nothing to do with the New York fight and means to have nothing to do with it. He keeps up his communications with the department by telephone and goes there only when he is absolutely obliged to.

More Fraud Unearthed.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The treasury investigation committee to-day submitted a preliminary report to Secretary Windom of evidence found against the custodian's department. The committee report that they find a regularly organized ring which has been in existence for several years and has been misappropriating money and defrauding the government. Officials and employes who were connected with the ring will be dismissed at once, and a more complete and thorough investigation will be ordered. All facts heretofore reported in the Western Associated Press dispatches, relating to the selling of carpets and other frauds of the ring, are reported by the committee.

Ready to Investigate.

Secretary Windom said to-day that he would probably be prepared to appoint a commission to investigate charges preferred against Superintendent Dodge of the San Francisco mint within a few days; that he had already telegraphed to a gentleman asking if it would be convenient for him to serve, and that he was now awaiting reply.

The Whittaker Verdict.

It is learned that the Whittaker verdict will be ready with recommendation for dismissal.

A Rumor.

It is rumored that Marshall Jewell will succeed Tyner as soon as the latter demonstrates that he was free from blame in the star route frauds.

A Woman Appointed.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Miss M. [illegible] Wisconsin, has been appointed deputy postmaster [illegible] the first instance where a woman has received such appointment from the president.

Villard and Gould.

[St. Paul Pioneer Press.]

The little joint of Wall street says that he and Villard were pulling together until the latter forced out the Northern Pacific, assumed the [illegible] clash and in consequence he will protect his Union Pacific interests by building from Ogden to Portland. Gould doesn't propose to divide the honors with Villard if he can help himself, but Villard's star is in the ascendant.

Senator Jones, of Nevada, thinks that the secretary of the treasury should coin $5,000,000 per month of standard dollars in order to make money plenty. The senator is losing his financial sense, and should take a lesson from his friend General Grant.

Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure absorbs the purulent virus and kills the seeds of poison in the farthest parts of the system. It will not only relieve, but certainly cure Catarrh at any stage. WEDNESDAY MORNING JUNE 15, 1881.

THE RING'S OWN.

Those who are making such frantic efforts to gain control of the city government, find that the charter which they imposed upon the people, as the first step in their programme, is not favorably regarded by the thinking and voting population. Hence they are denying the paternity of the document and telling that Mayor Thompson is the author of it; that it is the charter which was framed by the mayor, common council and citizens' committee. Though every one of them who utters this statement knows its utter falsity, they will not hesitate to continue in the work of trying to deceive those who did not closely observe their work in the legislature. All who read the history of the passage of the present charter will recollect that Mayor Thompson took a most decided stand in opposing it. During a visit by him to Salem while the bill was pending he was recognized as its especial opponent by Besser, Yates and Beebe and others who had succeeded by misrepresenting to Hon. John Minto the wishes of the people of Portland, who was on the committee to which it was referred, in getting the charter as prepared by the committee of the council and citizens changed to its present inconsistent and positively bad shape. So intense was the fear that Thompson's influence would break up their programme, that a conversation upon some other subject entirely between him and Mr. Minto excited the irritable Yates to unloose his tongue and make an attack on Thompson, both unparliamentary and indecent, and by insinuation charging Mr. Minto with having allowed himself to be improperly approached. The latter, however, had the opportunity of replying, being a member of the house, and he most unmercifully excoriated Yates and forced from him a semi-retraction of the intimation. From the time the charter prepared here was changed by the Multnomah delegation to whom it was referred by the house, no one more persistently opposed it at every step than did Mayor Thompson and it is only those who did not watch the proceedings of the legislature, that are liable to be deceived by the falsifiers of the record who are trying to shift the responsibility of the fact that the people now have a charter liable to be used against them with serious results by any corrupt set of men who may chance to get into power. This deficient instrument is the work of the partisan ring now moving under the name of the republican party, to defeat Thompson for mayor. They alone are responsible for it, and the people will so hold them in the election, and rebuke not only their false statements of matters of such recent occurrence, but their well-laid plans to accomplish a corrupt design upon the people of Portland.

BONDHOLDERS' SOCIETY.

A society has been formed in England with a very peculiar object. It embraces all the holders of bonds of the late southern confederacy and its purpose is to secure the payment of these bonds. Since the close of the war there has been, from time to time, some talk of making a demand on the United States for such payment, but circumstances over which the British government has no control, rendering it absolutely useless to make such a demand the society of bondholders now proposes to work the matter up on moral grounds. The argument is that this government, succeeding to the ownership of the confederate public property, is equitably bound to pay its debts, or, at least, so much of them as the value of that property so captured would liquidate. British capitalists who took stock in the confederacy have always felt that the payments made by the English government to the United States under the award of the Geneva conference was a concession which it was humiliating to make. The holders of the confederate bonds did not have the cheek to present them at Geneva to offset the American claims settled there but the holders society has now appointed a committee to advance their interests, paying into the treasury of the society one shilling on each £100 in bonds by the members to work the matter up. Whether this committee is to come to America as missionaries to convert the people of this country to the English idea of morality on such subjects we do not know, but it is safe to predict that the one shilling paid to the society has as effectually been lost by those who have paid it as is the amount which was given for the bonds in the first place.

But the claim itself is refreshing in the light of other events. While pressing this claim on moral grounds they forget how Great Britain remonstrated against the payment of the award which was made in favor of our people for actual damage inflicted by British vessels, and the trick by which Great Britain and Canada together got a third of it back by means of false testimony and forged statistics of the coast fisheries. An exchange, speaking on this subject, concludes by saying: "It is refreshing to hear the people of a country plead for morality in money transactions, while their pockets are freshly lined with money virtually stolen from this country by means of false figures used before a body of packed arbitrators. A little less cant and a good deal more of substantial honesty would be a great benefit to people of the class represented by these British bondholders."

"Two questions," said Mr. Chas. G. Leland, in an admirable lecture recently delivered before the social science association of Philadelphia, "two questions may be said to lie at the very basis of social science and social progress. One of these is the providing work—or the means of making a living—for everybody; the second, which is closely allied to it, is—how shall we educate the young, so that, while acquiring the ordinary principles of mental education, they shall at the same time familiarize themselves with some practical hand work of art, so that when they leave the school they may either be able to do something to support themselves, or at least, so to speak, not be obliged to go to school again. For it is literally going to school when the youth finds himself helpless in a workshop—not merely ignorant of the use of tools, but even the capacities of his own hands, eyes and brain as regards using them." This touches a side of the subject of education which is too little considered, particularly in city schools, or rather by parents whose children are sent to city schools.

Ohio may still lay claim to be the stepmother of presidents and the centre of official power; but census bulletin No. 145, just issued, diminishes the claim of the Buckeyes to embrace the centre of population in this country. That honor is given to Kentucky and is found to be located near the village of Taylorsville. This center, though keeping on about the same parallel, moves steadily westward, as it has since 1790, when it was 23 miles east of Baltimore. In 1800 it was 18 miles west of the same city; in 1810, 40 miles NW by W of Washington; in 1820, 16 miles north of Woodstock; 1830, 19 miles WSW of Moorefield; 1840, 16 miles south of Clarksburg; 1850, 23 miles SE of Parkersburg; in 1860, 20 miles SE of Chillicothe; in 1870, [illegible] miles E by N of Cincinnati; in 1880, 8 miles W by S of Cincinnati. The total distance westward of the centre in 1880 is [illegible] miles of the centre in 1790.

Mayor Thompson's [illegible] to defeat the ring [illegible] representing to the legislature that the people of Portland did not want it. Chris Yates, ring member for Multnomah and one of those now most active in getting up a machine partisan ticket, rose up in his seat in the house and delivered a scurrilous harangue, saying among other things that "Thompson lied" in representing that the people of Portland did not want the ring amendments. Yet now the organs of the ring are asserting that Thompson got up the amendments to the charter, and no doubt Yates is helping to spread the same report.

Boston is moving for a world's fair in 1885. As an exhibition it will undoubtedly be a creditable affair, but as a world's fair it is a predestined failure. Successful exhibitions of that kind cannot be held in the same country oftener than once in twelve or fifteen years. And, moreover, Boston is not the proper place. The next national or international exposition should be held near the center of population in the United States. It might not be wise to permit Chicago and St. Louis to compete. It should be held under the auspices of a really national board, no competing city to be allowed a representation until the selection has been made.

A few days ago Jay Gould was on the stand as a witness in a telegraph case, when an attorney objected to a question to elicit testimony relative to the cost of the American Union. He said that if such testimony was admitted the proceedings would [illegible] the story of the house that Jack built, and asked, looking in the direction of Mr. Gould, "shall we propose to do so to show who was the rat that ate the malt that lay in the house that Jack built?"

The bestowal by Queen Victoria of the title of knight on a number of distinguished Canadians is not received with awe by the press of the Dominion. "We shall have more nonsense than our good society can comfortably hold, if this sort of thing is kept up," says the Ottawa Herald. "We trust the gentlemen feel honored, because that is the only recompense they will receive for enduring public ridicule," says the Toronto Globe.

The general government is threatened with a suit for $150,000 damages, on account of General Butler's opening the Dutch Gap canal which has rendered valueless the wharf and railway of the Bright Hope Company at Osborne's Landing, on the James river. In consequence of the low water at Osborne's Landing, the railway has to be extended to Bermuda Hundred.

The supreme court of the state of Maine has decided that "a church is not a corporation with authority to create debt in erecting a house of worship." If this interpretation of law were to prevail throughout the country it would revolutionize the church building business by putting it upon a cash basis, and cutting off so much of it as is now managed on trust.

The Panama canal scheme is too trifling to engage the whole attention of DeLesseps, and he has contracted with the Greek government to open a ship canal between the Ægean Sea and Gulf of Corinth. The canal will be only five miles long, and as there are no very serious natural obstacles to overcome he will probably succeed.

Nihilism is terrorizing the monarchies of the old world. English aristocracy is frightened and the old rule adopted immediately after the Guy Fawkes attempt to blow up the parliament, which prohibits the entrance of any stranger bearing a parcel into the precincts of the house of lords or commons, is to be enforced.

If citizens want a partisan police force to terrorize the city in future elections they will have a fine chance of getting it by supporting the schemes of the ringsters who are behind the partisan movement for the present election.

During the last fifteen years of slavery the south raised 46,675,591 bales of cotton. During the first fifteen years under freedom, that is, from 1865 up to 1880, the number of bales produced was 56,438,335.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 15, 1881.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, June 15.—For California and Northern Pacific coast region, fair weather.

CITY.

[illegible]—Under the auspices of the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society a picnic and excursion will take place to-morrow at Willamette Grove. These grounds are situated on the eastern bank of the Willamette, about three miles above the city and are very suitable for picnic purposes. The steamer City of Quincy has been chartered for the day and will leave her wharf at the foot of Morrison street at 10 A. M. and 1 P. M., and [illegible] P. M. Music will be furnished by the Northwestern band on the boat and at the platform. A number of sports and games will be inaugurated during the day, for which prizes will be given. Tickets for the round trip can be had for 50 cents.

BOY DROWNED.—Yesterday evening about half-past six o'clock three boys were paddling on [illegible] boards in the slough between the O. & C. R. R. track and Second street, on the East Portland side, when one of the lads, John [illegible], about fourteen years old, fell into the water and was drowned. His companions pulled to shore and gave the alarm. Fifteen minutes later the body was recovered by Jim Harris. Dr. Eadely and a number of other physicians tried all means of resuscitation, including the galvanic battery, for half an hour, but without avail. [illegible] lived with his parents in the [illegible] hotel, and was a remarkably bright and intelligent boy.

Chief Lappeus has telegraphed to the proper authorities in California, notifying them of the arrest of Flogg. The prisoner will be held until the arrival of an officer.

CABLE BROKE.—Yesterday a few minutes past noon as the Argo was being towed from her dock at the foot of Washington street, by the Willamette Chief, she ran on and parted the Stark street ferry cable but a few feet from the westside pontoon. The accident was caused by the vessel being kept too close in shore. At the time the ferryboat was lying at the eastside slip, and the cable was resting at ease on the bottom. The damage to the cable was being repaired last night.

Hines, J. A. Gray, G. W. Izer and J. A. Cruzan. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. G. W. Izer, followed by singing. Mr. Hallenbeck then read a portion of scripture and proceeded in a clear, earnest, forcible manner to describe the condition of the drunkard in his misery and degradation, illustrating his points by many well told anecdotes. Some of these were so thrilling as to draw tears from many eyes. Mr. Hallenbeck's discourse was followed by a few moments of silent prayer, after which Rev. J. A. Gray led in an earnest prayer for the blessings of God to follow the earnest words of truth that had been spoken. After more singing, notices were given of the meetings during the week. To-night and Thursday and Friday nights the meetings will be held at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Hallenbeck also called attention to the noon prayer meetings at the same rooms every day. THE "WILLAMETTE."

THE OREGON IMPROVEMENT COMPANY'S NEW COLLIER ARRIVES 80 DAYS FROM NEW YORK.

She Brings 2317 tons of Railroad Material. Dimensions, Officers, etc.

At an early hour yesterday morning the Oregon Improvement Company's large new collier the Willamette, which was built at Chester, Pennsylvania only a few months ago, arrived safely at this port, after a [illegible] voyage around Cape Horn. Although she was known to be due at this port soon, yet her arrival here was a matter of some surprise. So far as known not a line of intelligence was received from the Willamette since she steamed away from New York harbor and turned her prow southward, until her appearance yesterday. Consequently, the whereabouts of the steamer was only a matter of conjecture. Monday afternoon the wires between Astoria and this city were prostrated and no shipping news could be received from the former point. Taking advantage of [illegible] circumstance, the new collier crossed the bar, [illegible] at Astoria and proceeded without delay up the river. The first intimation the public had that the Willamette was in the river at all was when she gracefully rounded the bend of Swan island and came alongside the lower end of Ainsworth dock.

THE PASSAGE.

With 2317 tons of railroad material for the O. R. & N. Co., the Willamette left New York at 6 A. M. on the 26th of last March and started on her long voyage. At 12 M. of that date she left the light ship off Sandy Hook. Average March weather was encountered during the run down to the Atlantic side. To use the first officer's language, "it was at times a little lumpy." Rio Janeiro was reached on the 20th of April at 8 o'clock P. M.

The Willamette took on at that port 500 tons of coal. She sailed from Rio de Janeiro at 2 A. M. on the 22d of April. Possession bay was reached at 2:30 P. M. on the 6th day of May. After leaving Rio the steamer was bearing St. Nicholas bay a very heavy snow storm was encountered and a stress of weather which disturbed the vessel for two nights and one day. The steamer also remained over night at Borgas bay as is usual for vessels. Magellan strait was next reached in safety, the steamer leaving there at 11 P. M. on the 8th of May. Valparaiso was reached on the 11th of May. After coaling, the Willamette headed northward again on the 19th. Columbia river bar was reached at 2:30 Monday afternoon, June 13th. A pilot was taken on board and at 5 P. M. the same day she arrived at Astoria. Leaving Astoria that evening the Willamette was made fast in the stream at Portland yesterday at 6:30 A. M. Eighty days were required to accomplish the voyage from port to port. The actual running time was about 70 days. Excellent health was enjoyed by all on board, and nothing of unusual interest occurred during the voyage.

DIMENSIONS AND CARGO.

The Willamette was built expressly for coal and general freighting business between Puget sound ports, San Francisco and Portland. In addition, she has accommodations for 50 passengers. Her dimensions are: length 345 feet; beam 37 feet, hold 22½ feet. She is schooner rigged, and is steered by steam. Steam is also employed in letting go and hoisting the anchors. She can be ballasted very quickly by water, having a capacity for 500 tons water ballast. When loaded the Willamette draws about 18 feet. Her registered capacity is 2084 02-100. Her cargo consists of rails, fish bars, spikes, car wheels, locomotive boilers, car platforms, etc.

The machinery is driven by a high and low pressure engine of 34 inches stroke and 50 inches diameter. Under ordinary circumstances the average speed of the vessel is 12 knots per hour, the propeller making about 65 revolutions to the minute. There are six water tight bulkheads.

THE OFFICERS.

The Willamette is officered as follows: Captain, Louis Meyer, first officer, John A. L. [illegible]; second officer, Louis Williams; third officer Marcus Starbuck; chief engineer, A. A. Winship, first assistant, William Mehaffey; second assistant, Scott, third assistant Brenan. Including officers and crew, there were 37 persons on board on the voyage from New York.

The work of discharging cargo will commence in a few days. The material will be transferred to barges, brought along side, and forwarded to the points where it will be used. During the day this new and very staunch steamer was visited by hundreds of persons, whose comments were, without exception, very complimentary.

THE GREAT BLAST.

Yesterday a little after noon the great blast on the promontory at the upper end of Shell Rock, twelve miles above the Cascades, was fired. A party including Chief Engineer Thielsen, Captain George Ainsworth, Colonel Gillespie and several others, among whom were a number of ladies, left Portland in the morning to witness it. Everything had been got in readiness, and when the steamers Mountain Queen and R. R. Thompson, one of which carried the visiting party while the other was making the regular trip to the Dalles, arrived near and blew the signal whistle, the mine was exploded. Chambers had been run into the cliff from nearly opposite sides, and charged with 1,000 pounds of powder. The cliff was of basalt, projecting into the river, above which it stood at the height of about 150 feet. The extent of its base was about 200 feet and the lateral depth of rock which it was desired to move was 75 to 80 feet. The wind was setting strongly up stream, and as the spectators were some distance below the promontory, the shock of the explosion was to them scarcely perceptible. But the sight was a splendid one. There was a great flame, a great rolling smoke, and the prodigious mass of material was seen to rise and plunge out into the river, some of it being thrown perhaps half way across. The boats steamed up, and it was evident at once that "the shot" had been entirely successful. Messrs. Thielsen and Hallett found the result in the highest degree satisfactory. About [illegible] cubic yards of rock had been blown off into the river, and the work of constructing the railroad at that point will now be a comparatively easy one. Rapid progress is now being made all along the line, and there is every reason to expect that by September the rails will be laid from the Cascades to The Dalles.

THE MASONIC CONCERT.

We can't now recall a more enjoyable amateur concert than that which took place at New Market last night under the direction of Mr. Kinross for the benefit of the Masonic Board of Relief. The audience, which filled every seat upstairs and down, embraced nearly all the art-loving and music lovers of Portland—a splendid assemblage, critical and discriminating, but generous and at times enthusiastic. [illegible]

Mr. Kinross [illegible] Whittier's poem "The Three Bells," set to music by [illegible], was a splendid number. Here are the words:

Beneath the [illegible]
That [illegible]
The [illegible]
The [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
From the [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
She [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] the heaving swells,
Tossed up and down the ship lights,
The lights of the "Three Bells."
And ship to ship made signals,
Man answered back to man,
While oft to cheer and hearten,
The "Three Bells" nearer ran;
And the captain from her taffrail,
Sent down the hopeful cry,
"Take heart, hold on!" [illegible]
The "Three Bells" shall lay by."
All night across the waters,
The tossing lights shone clear,
All night from reeling taffrail,
The "Three Bells" sent her cheer.
And when the dreary watches
Of storm and darkness passed,
Just as the wind [illegible],
All souls were saved at last.
Sail on, "Three Bells" of Glasgow,
In grateful memory sail!
Ring on, "Three Bells" of rescue,
Above the wave and gale.
As Thine in night and tempest
I hear the Master's cry,
As passing through the darkness,
The lights of God draw nigh.

The music is in keeping with the poem. At first full of deep [illegible] with grandeur, then hopeful and ending with an anthem of praise. Mr. [illegible] may well be proud of his last work, which would do credit to composers older and more experienced. Mr. Kinross gave the [illegible] rendition and to the [illegible]. Mr. J. C. Williams gave "M'appari" by Flotow in good style. Mr. Coursen, for the first time during his residence here, played a piano solo, "Concert [illegible]," by Gottschalk, and showed himself quite as entertaining as on the violin. His other work at the piano last night, the accompaniment of eighteen pieces, was executed with characteristic fidelity and good taste. The quartettes, unaccompanied, by Messrs. [illegible], Burrows, [illegible] and Kinross were delightful novelties. More of this kind should be heard oftener.

OREGON STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Eighth Annual Meeting—Addresses by Dr. Bailey, Dr. Merrick, Judge Deady, Hon. J. N. Dolph and Dr. C. H. Hall.

The annual meeting of the Oregon State Medical Society yesterday, in the parlors of Willamette Engine Co. No. 1, was numerously attended by physicians from various parts throughout the state.

Among those present were: Dr. E. A. Bailey, of Hillsboro, president of the society; Dr. Cyrus, Forest Grove; Dr. Chuick, Gervais; Dr. Hall, Salem; Dr. Hendrex, Harrisburg; Dr. Kinney, Salem; Dr. McAnley, Stayton; Dr. Merrick, Canyonville; Dr. Nottage, and Dr. Josephi, of East Portland; Dr. Nicklin, Eugene City; Dr. Norris, Oregon City; Dr. Smith, Vancouver, W. T., and many members of the profession in Portland.

A public meeting was held in the evening at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., at which the retiring president, Dr. E. A. Bailey delivered the annual address.

The address was a review of the progress of medical science since the time of Hippocrates and Galen, and a comprehensive statement [illegible] of the last fifty years, tending to limit the outbreak and spread of disease.

At the conclusion of the address, the president introduced Dr. C. B. Merrick, his successor in office, who spoke at length on the relations of the public to the medical profession, and the urgent need that resulted to the cause of medical science and to the public health as well, from the [illegible] commonly extended to incompetent and uneducated pretenders in the field of professional work.

Judge Deady followed with an address on medical evidence in the courts, the imperfection of present laws on this subject and plans proposed for increasing the value of medical testimony in the interest of justice.

Hon. J. N. Dolph then spoke on the duties of the profession to the people and the obligation resting upon it to disseminate general information on the laws of health, the means of averting disease and the [illegible] principles involved in the care of children, house construction and food.

Dr. C. H. Hall, of Salem, spoke upon contagion [illegible] the correct [illegible] of disease, that it is to be considered as a disordered [illegible], and not a substantial thing which passes entrance [illegible] to be gotten out again before health can be restored.

During the evening Mr. [illegible] Bonnington and Miss Bonnington favored the audience with an excellent violin and piano duet, and Mrs. [illegible] sang a beautiful ballad "The Lighthouse Keeper" with charming effect.

A WOMAN PREACHER.

[From the New York Times.]

It is some years since the attempt of women to force themselves into the pulpit in this country began. The attempt has not been wholly unsuccessful, and, singularly enough, the very sects which have admitted women to the pulpit are those which profess the most profound reverence for the Scriptures. It is not to be denied that St. Paul expressly forbids women to preach, and the only way in which this prohibition can be set aside is by assuming that St. Paul's directions are to be followed only so far as they may commend themselves to our approval—an assumption which Mr. Bob Ingersoll would be very ready to make, but which seems somewhat inconsistent with the professed creed of the evangelical sects. Although certain sects have refused to ordain—after their manner—women preachers, they have, nevertheless, permitted women to occupy their pulpits as a sort of volunteer clergy—not to be distinguished by outside people from the regular clerical army. How many women preachers have been in active service during the past winter is not precisely known, but that the number was diminished by one early in April last is a fact which there is no reason to conceal.

The Rev. Miss Ann Eliza Smith was born of Methodist parents, and until she reached the age of 14 was an ardent Methodist. At that period, however, she began to turn her attention to the study of theology and ecclesiastical history, making use of such profound works as "Appletons' Cyclopedia," and two religious newspapers, one of which was Methodist and the other Baptist in its views. For some time she hovered on the brink of several fascinating heresies, the adoption of any one of which would have entitled her to the delights of moral martyrdom, but she finally decided to reject them all and to content herself by becoming a Baptist. Accordingly she gravely announced to her father that her conscience would be quieted only by immersion, and was painfully surprised when that intelligent old gentleman told her to go and be a Baptist to any extent she might desire. She had expected that she would be persecuted, but as that comfort was withheld from her, she bore up bravely, hoping for better things.

Her next religious eccentricity was her determination to become a preacher. She told her father that she had a call to the ministry which she dared not disobey, and shrank with horror from him when he said that he "hadn't heard nobody a callin' on her." The Baptist minister tried to persuade her that she could be useful elsewhere than in the pulpit. He hinted that a certain amount of scholarship was necessary to a minister who wished to expound the Scriptures intelligently, or to discuss questions of ecclesiastical history or polity. She confronted him with the fact that she had read the encyclopedia and two religious newspapers, and was, she rather guessed, quite as good a scholar as most of the men who tried to keep women in slavery. Then he suggested that a minister, in order to be able to comfort persons in doubt and affliction and point out to inquirers the path of duty, should have some knowledge of human nature, of the temptations to which men and women are exposed, and of the ways of the world; but Miss Smith replied that a woman's insight into the human heart was far clearer than that which any man could obtain, and that she knew the world perfectly well, for she was 18 years old and had twice spent a week in Baltimore. Argument proved of no avail. The young woman persisted in being a minister, and, like most of her sex, found means to have her own way. She was licensed to preach, and in October last became the minister of the Eighth-day Baptist church of Jehosaphat's Falls.

For nearly six months the Rev. Miss Smith was really successful. That is to say, people came to hear her preach and said that she used beautiful language. Young men of her congregation worked slippers for her and gave her "switches" put up in gilt-edged boxes labeled "for my pastor." What was still better, several converts were made, so that when the first Sunday in April arrived three young men and one colored woman were ready for baptism.

Now, the creed of the Eighth-day Baptists teaches that baptism, in order to be valid, must be administered in a running stream. The Jehosaphat's Falls creek was terrible cold in April, and yet it was the only creek in which converts could be baptized. Miss Smith did not shrink from her duty. She made a baptismal robe for herself, consisting of a blue flannel gown, with thirty pounds of shot sewed in the rim of the skirt to keep it down. Under this skirt she wore water-proof garments, and thus protected, as she supposed, she fearlessly entered the stream, and wading out to where it was waist deep, called on the colored woman to come and be baptized.

Miss Smith found that the water was made none the warmer by her water-proof garments, and she was nearly frozen by the time the colored woman reached her side. Moreover, she was badly frightened, for the current was so strong that it threatened to sweep her away. Still, all might have been well had not the colored convert shown a great unwillingness to be dipped. In fact, that backsliding person begged to be released, and to have her baptism postponed until warm weather. Indignant at such conduct, Miss Smith attempted to force her convert under the water, and in so doing lost her footing and disappeared with a dismal shriek. She was rescued in a half-drowned condition by a Methodist spectator, and the following week resigned her pulpit, and, marrying her Methodist rescuer, departed for Minnesota. She is now convinced that women cannot be efficient Baptist ministers, and has jumped to the extreme conclusion that immersion is a practice unsuited to ladies, and of doubtful utility even in warm weather, and in the case of strong men.

THE METHODIST MECCA.

The Ecumenical Council in London—Objects of the Conference—Bishop Simpson's Views.

Says the New York Telegram: The purpose of the ecumenical council, which is to convene in the City Road chapel, London, in September, is to glorify Methodism and to laud the teachings of John Wesley. All divisions of the Methodist denomination in christendom have united in selecting delegates to the conference. Delegates and their families, to the number of twenty-seven, will leave to-morrow on the City of Berlin. Among the most distinguished of these are Bishops Simpson and Peck. Bishop Simpson will deliver the opening address. The holding of the conference is of great interest to the Methodist world, and its opening is looked forward to with a great deal of enthusiasm. The subjects for discussion range over the most interesting topics in the Methodist creed. Their treatment will be more eulogistic than analytical or critical. There will be much said about the grand old Methodist church, and her proud career in the march of civilization, but not even casual reference will be made to the failure of its itinerancy, the misdirected and fruitless efforts of the different divisions in the missionary field, or the usefulness of well directed work in bringing all Methodists into a common fold. No discordant note will be struck by the speakers at the meetings, and everything will be full of harmony and in sympathy with the teachings of the master.

THE CONFERENCE NOT AGGRESSIVE.

"When it was first proposed to hold the conference" said a Methodist divine, the editor of a religious weekly, "it was suggested that all defects in Methodism be brought up for thoughtful consideration and amendment. But upon sober second thought it was found that the work would be Herculean. No section of Methodism is willing to allow that any position taken by it is untenable. It was four years ago since the conference question was first agitated. Then it was believed that the United States was the proper place to hold it. In England, the birthplace of Methodism, it was overshadowed by a great state church. Nevertheless, the memories that attach to the City Road chapel, the cradle of Methodism, recommended it to the thoughtful consideration of prominent Methodist divines on both sides of the Atlantic. It is proposed to repeat the conference every ten years. The mind cannot at present grasp the results of such an outcome of the present conference."

THE RISE AND GROWTH OF METHODISM

The calling together of so great a body as the representatives of the Methodist denomination will make it a fit occasion for the consideration of the numerical and financial strength of the church and the machinery used in carrying on its great work. Methodism took its rise in 1739 in London, and in 1767 first struck root in America. Its entry into America was unassuming. An old rigging loft in South street, this city, was the simple abode for many days. To-day its numbers reach nearly 6,650,000 throughout the world. Methodism is strong in England and America, and weak in Germany, Switzerland, Italy, India, China, Japan and Mexico. Its strength in other countries is not sufficient to gain recognition. In the United States Methodism split upon the slavery question in 1844, and the divisions number over a dozen. The two great divisions are the Methodist North and the Methodist South. The prominent men in both churches are on the most intimate terms. The northern wing has 1,700,000 members; the southern wing has 825,000. The colored societies number more than 518,000. These are all Episcopal. The five non-Episcopal branches number 167,000. Three others, with a variety of names, have 275,000. The separate branches of Wesleyans in Canada have 170,000.

THE NORTHERN BRANCH.

The Methodist church north has 95 conferences, 13 bishops, 11,788 itinerant preachers, 12,630 lay preachers, 17,112 churches, 5785 parsonages valued at $72,000,000, beside $17,000,000 worth of other real estate. It has also 20,734 Sunday schools, 242,652 Sunday school officers and teachers and 1,581,141 Sunday school scholars, 110,777 church trustees and 85,270 class leaders. The financial exhibit is no less surprising. The conference collections last year amounted to $899,000; miscellaneous, $210,500; Sunday expenses, $726,293; expense for new churches and improvements, $1,790,697; expense for local mission $213,600; salaries of clergymen, $8,241,030, and local church expenses, $2,350,000.

WHAT BISHOP SIMPSON SAYS.

Bishop Simpson, in conversation with a Telegram reporter, said, with reference to the council:

"The conference will call forth the best intelligence of the Methodist church, and great good cannot but be the result. It is true that no dogmatic debate will be encouraged. There is a large field for discussion outside of doctrinal controversies. My sermon on 'Christian Unity' will take up the greater part of the first day. The second day's address in grateful recognition of the hand of God in the origin and progress of Methodism as it stands to-[illegible] century upon Methodism [illegible] results will be given, and the purifying and elevating power of Methodism will be considered, as well as its influence on other bodies. The possible perils of Methodism from papacy, from sacerdotalism, from modern scepticism, from formality, worldliness and innovations upon established usages will form the subject of another paper. Those are samples of the treatment of the topics to be brought before the council."

Friday, August 5th has been selected as a day of fasting and prayer for the success of the conference.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The freight market has been rather more active thus far, owing in part to the fact that there was an accumulation of freight during the storm of last week, and it is coming down quite freely, but for new business there is not much inquiry. Rates are very firm, and there is a disposition to advance them in view of prospective scarcity of tonnage, there being very few vessels due at this port. The Annie J. Breyton has finished loading. Her cargo comprises in part 300 tons brimstone, 150 barrels whisky, 575 cases canned goods, 74 barrels resin, 50 bales hemp, 550 tons coal, lot iron, &c. Tonnage is scarce and is likely to be so for some time, and for short vessels as are available owners ask full prices. The latest charters are the Imperial, Alameda and bark Girard C. Tobey, the latter two to arrive, all to load at this port. The steamer hence on the eleventh has but 412 packages of merchandise for California and 802 bales sheetings and 125 cases milk for China. The steamer Rio de Janeiro is still in the hands of machinists and will not be ready for freight until the 21st inst.

Markets are quiet in most instances but prices are firm.

Wheat—Excited, unsettled and dull, shippers holding off.

Pork—10@15c higher.

Lard—Steady.

Rio Coffee—Moderate demand and firm.

Refined Sugars—Less active and a shade lower.

Turpentine—Dull but steady.

Petroleum—Firm, crude active.

Sperm Oils—Steady, sales at New Bedford 135 bbls. northern whale, private.

California Grain Prospects.

Crop reports show that late rains and cool weather have benefited cereals. In northern counties the yield will be nearly average. In the lower portion of the Sacramento valley, and in the central part of the state the crop will not exceed two-thirds that of last year, and the same is true of coast counties except those of the south where crops are full. In San Joaquin valley any loss in yield per acre is made up by increased acreage. Santa Clara valley has a rather light crop. All sections report grain of unusually fine quality.

Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Silver bars, 111⅛; money easy; governments quiet; stocks closed barely steady; W. U., 128¾; Quicksilver, 17½; Mariposa, preferred 6; Wells Fargo, 129½; New York Central, 143⅛; Erie, 47⅜; Panama 270; Union Pacific, 129¾; bonds, 119; Central Pacific, 99¼; bonds, 117⅛; Sutro, 2; Silver Nugget, 53; Mineral Creek, 165; Pacific Mail, 129⅞.

HUB PUNCH,

TO TOP OFF A DINNER,

May be Drank Clear, as a Cordial.

For a dinner thoroughly appointed, the good old way was to wash down the last triumphs of the feast with copious libations of rich, rare and curious old Port and Golden Sherry; but "HUB PUNCH" has added a new sensation to the epicure. Its delicacy, aroma, flavor, and delicious, but gentle effects, proclaim it the nectar fit for the gods banqueting on Olympus.

Mix HUB PUNCH with Ice Water, Cold Tea, Lemonade, or Soda; it is unanimously pronounced unrivalled.

TESTIMONIALS.

"A sip is like nectar."—Boston Courier.

"Delicious beyond description."—Boston Transcript.

"Added to the good things of the table it enlarges the pleasures of life and encourages good fellowship and good nature if rightly enjoyed."—Springfield Republican.

"It is a great trouble to make Punch, and many people lack the sweet taste to brew it. Hub Punch is indispensable wherever known."—Spirit of the Times, N.Y.

"The increasing popularity of Hub Punch is pleasant testimony to your success in using the best and purest components." PARK & TILFORD, New York.

"Our success in selling Hub Punch has surprised us, we having sold within the past three months a larger quantity than we anticipated selling in twelve." SMITH & VANDERBEEK, New York and Chicago.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

LIVER PILLS,

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

King of the Blood.

Is not a "cure all," it is a blood purifier and tonic. Impurity of blood poisons the system, deranges the circulation, and thus induces many disorders, known by different names to distinguish them according to effects, but being really branches or phases of that great generic disorder, Impurity of Blood. Such are Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nervous Disorders, Headache, Backache, General Weakness, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Disorders, Pimples, Ulcers, Swellings, &c., &c. King of the Blood prevents and cures these by attacking the cause, impurity of the blood. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists, $1 per bottle. See testimonials, directions, &c., in pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," wrapped around each bottle.
